Meanwhile a search was being made for Bunch by his friends, which, of course, proved fruitless. Lost river was thoroughly dragged and other information concerning him sought for until the nurderers became alarmed lest the cave might be visited and the secret revealed. On the 18th of the same month the cave was visited by the Bunch nurderers. A box was provided and the remains of Bunch were rolled into it and carried through the small opening and deposited on a large brush heap some distance from the cave, where the whole was thoroughly saturated with oil and the torch applied.

Tough on Our State.

The Rowan County war in Kentucky still continues, and its first victim during the present outbreak is the Sheriff who the present outbreak is the Sheriff who undertook to enforce the law. The State of Kentucky can go on indefinitely allowing a few cut-throats to over-ride law, shoot down officials and keep an important community in a state of terror, if the State authorities so choose. Outside of Kentucky the question will very naturally arise as to what a government is for if not to preserve the neace and protect the not to preserve the peace and protect the lives and property of the citizens of the State. It is a humiliating confession for any State Government to make that it is not strong enough to cope with a band of out-laws of the Tolliver-Martin stripe.— Philadelphia Times.

Don't Forget It.

After the tidal wave of 1874, and during six years when the Democrats controlled the action of the House, the annual appropriations for rivers and tarbors were as follows:

power again by the people, notoriously, son-spicuously, ignominiously.

Are the Democrats in the present House likely to forget this fact, now that they are called on to consent to a job larger by a mil-led on to consent to a job larger by a mil-publican majority in the Forty-seventh Con-

Sun.

If they should be a little careless, you know, and forget it, Cleveland will not. He'll give them a gentle reminder in the shape of a veto, that will let them know this administration was put into power to reform and economize, and not to squander away the people's money in extravagant appropriations.

KENTUCKY POLITICS.

The Republican, of the Covington district have nominated a "full" ticket—John W. Finnell for Circuit Judge, O. P. Schmidt for Chancellor and O. S. Deming for Commonwealth's Attorney. The two latter decline to face certain defeat.

GLADSTONE, the g. o. m., has met with a Waterloo in the recent elections in England.

A special from Washington, D. C., to the Courier-Journal says: "All of the Kentucky members of Congress are candidates for renomination. Mr. Stone, of the First district, expects to sail through with but little, if any, opposition. Mr. Laffoon, of the Second district, though 737,000,000 bushels. Last year it was but 375,000,000 bushels.

The Kentucky Hawkeye, a Republication of the Fourth district, those and found in the fight when the primaries are heard from. Mr. Robertson, in the Fourth district, does not underrate the opposition against him. Western Pennsylvania is suffering from a severe drought, and forest fires are doing great damage.

The Kentucky Hawkeye, a Republican journal recently started at Covington, failing to "reform" things, has suspended. Its career was brief and uneventful.

Duaino the present session of Congresseven members have "shuffled off this mortal coil." The latest being Representative Cole, of Maryland, who died the other day.

Sax Walton, of Lancaster, but formerly of this county, is an applicant for a Consultate. Sam would grace most any position given him by Secretary Bayard, or any one else.

The chicken-breeder at Fremont, R. B. Hayes, doesn't think Clevaland is night in vetoling the private pensions, which leads the New York Sun to remark that "Cleveland is always lucky."

The Committee on Invalid Pensions seems to think that Cleveland should endorse their action in all these private pension bills. A few more vetoes will probably convince them of their error.

The report that Autorney-General Garland would resign at an early day is now said to have no foundation. Garland is all right, but nothing would give the New York Sun more satisfaction than to see him step down and out.

Wabash Bondholders.

New York, July 10,—There was an excedingly lively meeting of Wabash bondholders at 98 Freedway to consider the roor-ganization plan proposed by the purchasing committee. Jay Gould's name was bit-terly hissed, and the only person present to Mr. Ashley, secretary of the company. He denied accusations that the reorganization plan was a scheme of Gould's. He added that Mr. Gould had lost $8,000,000 in Wabash. The outcome of the stormy meeting was the appointment of a committee of five with H. V. Poor as chairman to investigate the cossidition of the property and report at a futster meeting.

HE TORIES AND UNIONISTS WILL COMBINE TO DEFEAT GLADSTONE.

The Conservatives Liable to Have More Seats in the Nest House of Parliament Than the Gladstonians and Parnellites Combined—Death of Core Pearl.

LONDOR, July 10.—Returns show that 400 members have thus far been elected. There is up to the present time, a solid anti-Homs Rule majority of 108. Returns coming is show no probability of the reversal or the varieties and the programment. It is believed that unless the countries to be heard from entirely change the situation, the Marquis of Harlington will be offered a chance to form a ministry.

The situation at this moment is encouraging to far-sening frishmen, who know that a coalition on an anti-Home Rule basis cannot survive.

coalition on an anti-Home Rule basis canno survive.

The most alarming prospect, however, it the possible conjunction merely for anti-Home Rule purposes, of the Conservative and the so-caled Unionists, against Messre Gladstone and Parnell. This would give, the calculation given above bolding good, 38 anti Home Rule vetoes against 393 for Home Rule, and that is just what the London Con-servatives are hoping for and betting upon.

J. L. Langhlin, Superintendent of B.
F. Avery & Son's large plow works, at Louisville, was here yesterday. He was sent here by his employee for the sole purpose of looking through the stock and outflt of the A. T. Cox plow works which are advertised for sale, and was well satisfied with his examination. He expressed surprise that the citizens of Mayaville didn't enter more heartily into the organization of a stock company to purchase the plant, and continue the business where it now is. The works have been in operation for over forty years and are widely known throughout the South. Mr. Laughlin thought a stock company could make a success of the South. Mr. Laughlin thought a stock company could make a success of the enterprise. Mr. A. B. Crum has been industriously engaged for some time in an effort to organize such a company. Up to date, be has secured a subscription of about $25,000 to the stock, and is still engaged in the effort. It is to be hoped that he will succeed. He wants to raise $100,000 a. that the company can again. $100,000, so that the company can star out on a solid basis. With the additiona facilities for transportion which will be facilities for transportion which will be afforded by the completion of the new railroad, and the other advantages, this city will certainly prove an excellent location for enterprises of an industrial character. If Mr. Orum should fail in bits effort, the plant and outfit will undoubtedly be sold and removed from this refere. this place.

It has been said by some kindly dis-osed persons that the guarantors will ocket ten thousand dollars of the posed pocket city's subscription. One moment's con-sideration shows the utter folly of such sideration shows the utter folly of such speeches. The guarantors are to give the city stock for every dollar received by them, and this stock can only be obtained at par. How can they then furnish stock at par for every dollar of the $10,000 and at the same time pocket the money? Sensible and honest men ought to blush stanch supmositions. at such suppositions
